PROJECTS

To-Do List

Created a responsive To-Do List application using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. The application allows users to add, update, and remove tasks dynamically, helping improve productivity and organization while demonstrating fundamental front-end development skills.

Event management system

Designed and developed a web-based Event Management System to simplify event registration and management. The platform allows students to join events and administrators to manage events, view participants, and control registrations. Built using web technologies with database integration for efficient data management.
